My Journey Searching for God's Purpose

...and what does the Lord require of you but to do justly, to love mercy and to walk humbly with Your God? Micah 6:8 NKJV

In past weeks, Pastor Andrew has been focusing on God's purpose for us as a church and in our community. At the same time, the daily readings from my Women's Devotional Bible (NKJV) for September had the theme of purpose. Coincidence? Maybe, but I think that God just might have had a hand in it.

As I look back, it seems that I have focused on being a nurturer, caregiver and peacemaker. I wanted to help others feel better and get along with each other. It upset me when my efforts did not help those I cared about, and I would search for a more effective plan. I put a lot of pressure on myself until I figured out that I was not the one in charge and that God could and would be my guide, inspiration and help.

Now, even though I knew this, I would occasionally slip up and try to do things "my way" without consulting Him. When I was deciding what to study in college, I was torn between nursing (University of Washington) and vet school (Washington State University). I chose nursing and applied to the UW; but, apparently, my advisor sent my application to the wrong university since I received an acceptance to WSU. I first thought that God was telling me something, but my reaction was to be very upset. My advisor was able to get UW to process my application, even though the deadline was passed, and I was accepted. I chose to focus on pediatric and neonatal nursing and to care for the most vulnerable patients and their families. God's purpose for me kept me in the nurturing, caring role.

WHY

According to the Christian writer Mary Graham, God's purpose is for us to walk with Him, think like He thinks and do what He would do. "He accompanies (us) through life," she writes, "(and) once we know Him, we learn to trust His heart. We know his intentions toward us are good." This is a positive and comforting thought, but we must continually remind ourselves to keep this message in our mind and heart, or we will be searching without God's guidance.

This happened to me when, for medical reasons, I retired from nursing. I felt lost and without purpose, and I become more and more confused and depressed. It took a big crisis in my life for me to ask for help and guidance from both God and mental health professionals. Once I felt stronger and more focused, I could look to God in prayer for a new purpose.

I asked to start the Caring and Sharing Program as my personal mission. I wanted to acknowledge the highs and lows in the lives of fellow members of the congregation by sending cards, calling, texting, e-mailing and visiting. My next step was to seriously consider accepting the role as RUMC lay leader. I gave it a lot of thought and prayer and felt that God was calling and challenging me. Being lay leader has been a big learning curve, but I have been blessed to be guided by two pastors, a very supportive congregation and, of course, God. I have learned that God gives purpose and joy in humble service.

God has called each of us by name to be living examples of His love in Christ. No matter where we are in our lives, God's words inspire us to work on our discipleship and help us focus on our purpose. It is not always easy, but finding that purpose helps to make your life filled with joy and abundant love for family, friends, community, country, world and, most importantly, God. "I can do all things in Christ who strengthens me." Philippians 4:13 (NKJV)

Ad Council Notes

The Sept. 18 Administrative Council meeting concentrated on planning for the upcoming Charge Conference on Thursday, Oct. 20, at Redeemer with District Superintendent Cara Scriven. From the UMC website: "The primary responsibilities of the charge conference in the annual meeting shall be to review and evaluate the total mission and ministry of the church, receive reports, and adopt objectives and goals recommended by the church council that are in keeping with the objectives of The United Methodist Church." The Staff Parish Relations Committee (SPRC) will meet with the D.S. at 6 p.m. followed by an all-church conference with her at 7 p.m. The tentative agenda for the All-Church Charge Conference includes: Business Items (10-15 minutes), Vision & Mission Conversations Follow-Up (10-15 minutes) and Question and Answers with the D.S. (30-40 minutes).

Pastor Andrew throughout October will continue talking to folks who are interested in working as a team to develop vision and mission for the church and community. Additionally, Redeemer will host the Chamber of Commerce luncheon on Nov. 1 to promote the Holiday Bazaar and Magical Strings concert. The Ladies Fellowship and Community Connections will be working together to decorate the tables and prepare flyers.
